U.S. Garrisoning Iceland Foils Nazi Pincers Move

Canadian and Associated Press

Occupation of Iceland was described in administration circles in Washington today as a step intended to thwart a German pincers movement on Britain's indispensable supply lines.

This pincers movement, extending from the equator to the Arctic, would have as its immediate objective the cutting off of Britain from all overseas supplies, including lease-lend shipments. An informed military authority said an operation of such magnitude would constitute a logical prelude to an invasion attempt of Britain.

Should an invasion be successful, he said, the Reich would be in position for a pincers campaign against the western hemisphere — the threat President Roosevelt mentioned yesterday when he notified Congress that American naval forces had landed in Iceland as the occupation vanguard.

Strike By U.S. Pleases British

The British press today jubilantly greeted the occupation of Iceland by United States forces, and one paper said the move made the Atlantic "an Anglo-American lake."

"In Britain we can breathe more freely," the London Daily Mail said, but added: "There are other Atlantic islands equally dangerous to America — the Azores and Cape Verde Islands. There is also Dakar" (French west African port).

Government officials informally expressed opinion the United States action was the inevitable result of her foreign policy and that it probably was the forerunner of other measures.

U.S. Newspapers Give Approval

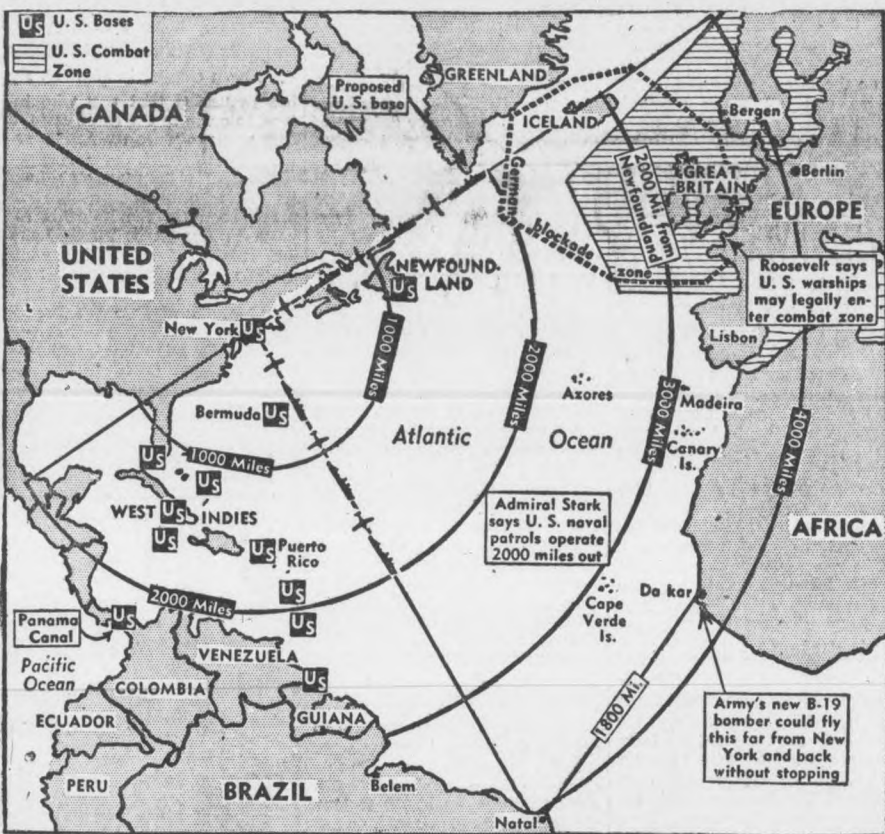

Newspapers in the United States, almost without exception, today voiced editorial approval of the occupation of Iceland. The editorials stressed the action as a blow at the Axis and a sound measure of national defence.

The Star-Ledger of Newark, N.J., said that "our occupation of Iceland constitutes the most stunning blow that Hitler has yet suffered in the Battle of the Atlantic."

The editorial added that "it would have an immediate and immense effect in reducing shipping losses in the Atlantic."

Nazis Take Time To Draft Statement

In Germany today Nazi officials declined to comment on the U.S. armed forces in Iceland, but said a statement might be issued within the next 24 hours. In Rome political circles asserted the arrival of U.S. forces in Iceland "constitutes real and true intervention in European waters."

In Tokyo, Domei, the authoritative Japanese news agency, said that "this action is decisive and must have been taken with strong determination." It means, Domei said, that the United States finally has entered the zone of hostilities as defined by Germany and holds "increased possibilities or further aggravation in relations between the United States and Germany."

A special cabinet session has been called for tomorrow afternoon, but Domei said it understood it would discuss budgetary matters.

In London there was no immediate official statement concerning the occupation, but qualified observers attached importance to the fact that Iceland is well within the Atlantic blockade zone set up by Germany.

"It is for America the boldest step she has taken in her determination to aid us," said the London Daily Express, Lord Beaverbrook's newspaper.

"This master stroke by the greatest friend of democracy has given us supreme aid, not only in the Battle of the Atlantic, but if permits Britain to bring home to other spheres of action vitally needed men and equipment."

"In effect, the President has extended his country's frontier across 4,000 miles of ocean," the London Daily Mail said. "He has established a startling and courageous precedent in the history of the United States."

The London Daily Sketch said: "There is no formal declaration of war, but the closest form of collaboration between the democracies from which the great American statesman has never shrunk."

A Foreign Office spokesman said the agreement under which the United States sent the forces was strictly between Iceland and the United States and Britain was not a party to it.

Declares Action Plainly Needed

The New York Herald Tribune today said editorially occupation "is a move of the sort for which the times have so desperately been calling."

"This is strictly a defensive move, but it is dynamic defence," the Herald Tribune continued. "It is defence which does not hesitate to name the danger, which moves in time and which sees the problem in its broadest terms. It is defence which reaches hundreds of miles into the Nazis' pretended 'war zone,' unmindful of the threats with which they have sought to sus-tain it, because it understands the vital character of the objective... the implications are far-reaching."

Saying that American forces moved "under the driving compulsion of events," the New York Times said every far-sighted American will welcome the news. It concluded:

July 4 Influx Up 94 Per Cent

Number of tourists who visited Victoria during the week-end of July 3 to 6, inclusive, was 94 per cent greater this year than last, according to figures furnished by C. D. Reid, inspector in charge of immigration at the Port of Victoria, to George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

A total of 6,322 visitors from the United States came to Victoria by boat during the week-end this year, compared with 3,262 during the corresponding four-day period last year.

Number of foreign cars entering the city by boat was 343 this year, compared with 251 over the week-end in 1940.

Nazi Drive Stalled With Huge Losses

Canadian and Associated Press

Russians today reported their army was cutting wide swaths in the ranks of the Germans in fighting concentrated largely at strategic river crossings.

The forces struck their heaviest blow south of the Ukrainian city of Novograd Volynski, a commune said, and also inflicted heavy losses on the Germans in defending the Dnieper and Dniester Rivers, in the central and southern sectors.

Forces Battle In Great Heat

A fierce sun beat down on hard, dry battlefields.

The communique indicated the lines of conflict throughout the vital 600-mile central front, on which the Russians rely for the defence of Moscow, stretched tightly, almost directly north and south, between Ostrov, on the Latvian frontier, and Mogilev Podolski, on the Dniester at the Bessarabian border.

Destruction of four German units totaling approximately 6,000 men was specifically announced in Moscow.

In Vichy military circles today said the German drive against the Stalin Line had been virtually stopped for four full days. These circles indicated that German losses were enormous.

They listed as one of the reasons for stopping the offensive the necessity for regrouping German units.

Other reasons for the halt, they said, was the need to reorganize supply lines and the guerrilla resistance in the rear of German columns.

Even women and children were joining these guerrilla attacks, they said.

Best Nazi Troops Tackle Stalin Line

Nazi reports claimed today that the German air force has battered Zhitomir, on the road to the Ukraine, to ruins and that Germany's best soldiers are flinging themselves at the Stalin Line.

While the German high command today reported on the war against Russia in a single sentence, "operations on the eastern front are proceeding on schedule," DNB propaganda and news agency said that on the southern wing of the front a "pursuit of the enemy" was in progress on the road to Kiev, capital of the wheat-producing province. It claimed penetrations of the vast Stalin Line were made in that area. The Nazi high command made no such claim.

Russian reports indicated the heaviest toll of Nazi forces was taken along the Dnieper River front, where 35 heavy German tanks and two infantry battalions were stated to have been destroyed, and in the shell-plowed fields of the western Ukraine, where two regiments were reported wiped out by Russian counterattacks.

Leningrad Thrust Stopped, Say Reds

To the north, where German mechanized forces have been driving through the Ostrov area northeast toward Leningrad, strong Soviet resistance stemmed the German drive, the Moscow communique said.

It reported fierce fighting, too, in the Borisov area of the Baltic front against a drive toward Bologsk on the upper Dvina.

In the centre region of Lepel, where fighting has centred along the canal linking the Dvina and the upper Berezina, the Russians declared Soviet and German troops were locked in attack and counterattack in a continuing struggle.

"In the direction of Novograd Volynski," the Russian war bulletin said, "heavy fighting with enemy tanks and motorized units continued. Farther south from this direction our troops, by a decisive counterattack on the flank and rear of the enemy, annihilated two enemy infantry regiments (about 6,000 men)."

Also in the Ukraine, the Red army was reported in another fierce struggle with German and Rumanian troops thrusting toward the Dniester River. The Russians said of this sector that "owing to the operations of our troops the enemy is being wiped out part by part."

Futile Attempts To Cross Dnieper

On the central front of the slowly-straightening battle line the Soviet said German troops were pouring their life's blood into the upper Dvina, the Berezina and the fortified Dnieper in futile efforts to cross the rivers toward Moscow.

A Moscow communique said heavy losses were inflicted on forces thrusting into Soviet territory in the vicinity of Kaki-salmi, on the Karelian Isthmus 75 miles north of Leningrad, and toward Kandalaksha, 150 miles south of Murmansk and Ukhta, 150 miles farther south.

It reported Soviet forces fighting "fierce engagements against strong units of mechanized enemy troops, holding up their advance towards the northeast" from the Ostrov area. The Nazi spearhead there has been thrust through the Baltic states within 175 miles of Leningrad.

Soviet troops were said to be holding firm against repeated Nazi attempts to cross the upper reaches of the Dvina near Polotsk in northern White Russia.

Fierce Battle In Ukraine Region

The red army in the western Ukraine was reported locked in a fierce fight with German and Rumanian troops near Mogilev Poiskoi, just inside the Ukraine across the Dniester River frontier from Bessarabia.

In Bessarabia, a province Russia took from Rumania last year, the communique declared a part of the German-Rumanian troops were destroyed "and thrown back from Soviet territory" by a Red army counterattack.

The communique declared that discovery of "some dozens of corpses of Rumanian soldiers" near where an Axis headquarters had been located led to statements by prisoners that Rumanian soldiers had been shot by Germans for refusing to fight against Russia.

One of the prisoners was quoted as saying he had seen a Rumanian executed "just for the reason that he, being wounded in both legs, could not rise and salute a German lieutenant."

Russians Spring Tricks, as Well

In the vital centre sector, where the Nazis were pictured as hammering at the Stalin Line, the commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland in describing how German troops have to keep their wits forever about them, said fields of Russians, mistaken for corpses, sometimes spring to arms and open murderous fire on Nazi soldiers.

Russian casemates, cleverly camouflaged, often let German unit after unit roar by without betraying their presence and then open a terrific fire from the rear, the commentary added.

Russian armored car crews, when their vehicles are put out of action, will disappear in fields of high grass, only to turn up suddenly elsewhere and begin a fierce sniping action.

Litvinoff, who had not appeared before the Soviet public since 1939, broadcast in English to the British and American people.

He described Hitler as a treacherous character, and declared there was an underlying menace in Nazism.

He added: "Hitlerism must be annihilated as the greatest obstacle to civilization. The peoples of the Soviet Union have responded with enthusiasm to the appeal of our government and our beloved leader Stalin. We will fight until Fascist barbarity is erased from the earth."

JAPAN ASSEMBLES SHIPS FOR ACTION

SHANGHAI (AP) — Experienced observers said today that Japan's curtailment of shipping routes and concentration of her merchant marine in the Pacific were obviously preparation "for any eventualities" — in other words, for whatever action Tokyo may have decided to take next.

Koh Ishii, spokesman of the Japanese government, said in Tokyo today that the concentration was due to a shortage of ships on Pacific Ocean routes. He pointed out that there was little chance of Japanese freighters obtaining cargoes on the east coast of the United States, so henceforth Japanese ships probably would confine their calls to the west coast.

He added that United States regulations concerning the Panama Canal were very inconvenient to the Japanese.

The Shanghai observers said Ishii's statement was not convincing. Japan, they said, has an oversupply of ships in these waters for normal purposes.

It was suggested the ships called home would be handed over to the military authorities if Japan attempts a new overseas expedition.

Trains of Wounded

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting system's Stockholm correspondent quoted a traveler reaching Sweden from Germany late today as declaring many trainloads of German wounded are reaching Berlin from the eastern front.

I counted seven such trains myself when leaving Berlin three days ago," the traveler said. "It is said the reason the German wounded are sent so far back from the front is that hospitals in Poland and East Prussia are already filled."

Arbitration Inquiry

VANCOUVER (CP) — James Thompson of the Provincial Department of Labor has been named conciliator in a wage dispute between the General Truck Drivers' Union Local 31 and 27 cartage companies in Vancouver, North Vancouver and New Westminster.

The truck drivers are asking a wage increase of 10 cents an hour over the prevailing 37 to 50-cent rate, according to Birt Showler of the teamsters' union. There are 525 drivers involved.

Russian Mission Now in London

LONDON (CP) — A military mission from Soviet Russia arrived in London today.

The mission, which shortly will be in touch with the staffs of Britain's three fighting services, reciprocates a British mission sent to Moscow, authoritative sources said.

It was understood that Maj. Gen. Golik, deputy chief of the Soviet general staff, is heading the mission here.

One of the members is Rear-Admiral Kharlamov of the Soviet naval staff.

Representatives of Russian technical troops also were included, but no economic delegates accompanied the group.

Much Speculation On Iceland Move

WASHINGTON (CP) — The sending of U.S. naval forces to Iceland — in its full significance — was the big topic of discussion in Congress circles today. Specifically, much interest attached to President Roosevelt's order to the navy to keep the sea lanes between Iceland and the United States "free of all hostile activity or threat thereof."

Inasmuch as part of this vast area has been a hunting ground for Nazi surface and subsurface raiders, the question arose whether the order meant "You may fire" where hostile sea action was encountered.

Another moot point was whether positive action of the Iceland variety might be expected in the future from the "substantial forces" which Mr. Roosevelt announced had been dispatched to the bases acquired from Britain in Trinidad and British Guiana.

Body of Soldier Found

CALGARY (CP) — The body of an unidentified soldier was found today on the Canadian Pacific Railway right-of-way near here. Police said they believed he was between 25 and 30 years of age. On his right forearm was tattooed a cross with the words "In Memory of Mother." A badge, believed to be that of the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, was found nearby.

10 Nudists Killed

PANAMA, Panama (AP) — Officials today announced three women and seven men were killed last night when Panama police tried to compel a colony of "Swiss German" nudists at the village of Cotiot, 20 miles below the Costa Rica Panama border, to comply with Panama's immigration and other laws.

Six persons were wounded. All the casualties were members of the colony except one Panama policeman, who was wounded.

Squadrons' Motors Sound Like Dynamo

Hundreds of British Planes Blast Nazi Centres in France

LONDON (CP) — British aircraft shuttled by the hundreds over the English Channel today, the throb of their motors persisting like the roar of a dynamo, in an offensive against German objectives in northern France, which has continued without let-up for the last 24 hours.

Heavy bombers escorted by fighters droned steadily to the attack. Many of them were invisible to ground observers through a Channel haze. It was a powerful continuation of widespread thrusts overnight against targets in western Germany, Holland, Belgium and France.

Observers at a southeast coast town reported that the sound of the explosions in the operations against France, begun at the Channel coast, were growing fainter, and apparently the R.A.F. bombers were moving farther inland to unload.

Battle With Russia Weakens Germans

Britons said they believed the Germans were hard pressed and were taking new measures with anti-aircraft guns to supplement the efforts of fighter forces depleted for the war against Russia.

Cliff watchers last night saw flashes like gunfire at sea and there was speculation today on the possibility that ships, specially armed for anti-aircraft duty with German convoys, were being anchored off the French coast after nightfall under orders to try to knock down some of the British bombers.

Big Oil Plant In France Bombed

A synthetic oil plant between Lens and Bethune in France was attacked in daylight today and seven Nazi planes shot down. The R.A.F. lost six planes in the attacks over France, but the pilots of two were saved.

The plant was manufacturing oil for the Nazi war machine. Bombs burst across it and one section burst into flames.

Last night British planes dropped heavy explosives on Frankfurt, Duesseldorf, Duisburg, Osnabruck, Muenster, Krefeld, Cologne, Muenchen-Gladbach, Ostend, Dunkerque and Boulogne, the Air Ministry said. Nine planes were lost.

Weather Favors British Raiders

Weather favored the unending smashes at enemy territory and the attacks were described as "highly successful." Factory buildings and warehouses collapsed and important railway junctions were struck repeatedly by large bombs.

Also attacked were Den Helder and oil stores at Amsterdam in the Netherlands, besides other points in the Ruhr and Rhineland districts.

(Nazi sources in Berlin admitted R.A.F. raids last night on west and northwest Germany and said property damage and casualties were caused by explosive and incendiary bombs.)

Great Explosion At Boulogne

Watchers on the English coast early today said a raid on Boulogne in occupied France caused a "gigantic explosion, which lasted fully two minutes. It was believed a munitions dump or factory was blown up. Great explosions also were heard from the direction of Calais and the bursts shook ground on the English side of the Channel.

Heavy Attack On Southampton

Nazi raiders, after a long lay-off, came over England in force last night and caused substantial damage and many casualties at the port of Southampton.

British night fighters and a strong anti-aircraft barrage accounted for four of five Nazi planes destroyed over the British Isles during the night. A few bombs also were dropped in south and southeast England.

The raiders blasted away at Southampton for several hours in one of the heaviest attacks made on England recently. The business section was hardest hit. It was feared the death toll would be raised when the results of a hit on a public air raid shelter are known.

The last previous big attack on England was made on the night of May 10, when many of the historic structures of the city of London were ruined. Then the Germans used dive bomber tactics, started a large number of fires and caused damage to two churches, two banks, a school and a number of private homes.

Yale University Head For Convoys, Men

SEATTLE (AP) — President Charles Seymour of Yale University favors "all out" aid to Great Britain, including convoys and an expeditionary force if needed.

Visiting here on a west coast trip, he told interviewers: "Understand me, I'm not pro-British; I'm pro-American, and that is why I think we should give them every aid possible. They are our first line of defence. We should give them every aid we can and speed our own defence, too."

"If convoys are necessary to get the goods to them, then we should provide them."

The War Today

By DON GILBERT

ICELAND

The direction of President Roosevelt's policy is marked in clearer outline by his decision that Iceland as long as the war lasts will enjoy the protection of the United States. American power is moving eastward step by step, and will not turn back. The essence of the President's message to Congress is to be found in his disclosure that orders have been issued to the United States navy "that all necessary steps be taken to insure the safety of communications in the approaches between Iceland and the United States, as well as on the seas between the United States and all other strategic outposts."

RELIEF FOR BRITISH

This clearly means the British navy is going to be relieved of much of its responsibility in the western Atlantic. There can be no "safety of communications" if German warships can sail through Denmark Strait hunting British convoys, as the Bismarck did, or if German submarines are allowed to continue to prey on shipping south of Greenland. Whether this means United States warships will fire on German vessels interfering with British shipping will be determined by events. The President's order to the navy is to keep "free of all hostile activity or threat thereof" the waters between Iceland and North America. That is a warning to German naval vessels to stay away, and perhaps it will be heeded.

OTHER ISLANDS

A hint that further action on the Iceland pattern may be in prospect can be read into the President's words: "... As well as on the seas between the United States and all other strategic outposts." One London newspaper declared "there are danger Atlantic islands—equally dangerous to America—the Azores and Cape Verde Islands."

Desolation in the Temple

Nazi Bombs Leave Ruins In Historic London Centre

(Periodic announcements have disclosed bomb damage to historic places in London. This first of a series of five articles describes the appearance of The Temple and Gray's Inn, both heavily damaged.)

By PAT USSHER

LONDON (CP) — Ghosts of Shakespeare and other literary giants must brood over the desolation wrought in The Temple by Nazi bombers.

This home of lawyers, savagely battered again and again in heavy raids on London, nurtured and housed many great literary figures. In The Temple Dickens was a clerk in his early days, Thackeray had chambers, Charles Lamb was born and Goldsmith lived.

Whole sections of its placid courtyards and stately buildings have been smashed, including The Temple Church, described as the finest existing Norman church in Europe.

The name of The Temple recalls that it was originally the seat of the Knights Templar. The order was dissolved in 1312 and the property was first leased to the "professors of the common law" about 1338. It has remained ever since the home of London's lawyers.

750 YEARS OLD

The round portion of The Temple Church was consecrated in 1185. The choir, or "oblong" section, was added in 1240. Both were burned out in a seven-hour fire. Only a charred shell was left of the round part, while the oblong, pews and choir stalls in the altar were reduced to heaps of ashes.

Believes Volunteers Sufficient

Conscription Excuse Feeble, Says Premier King

By C. R. BLACKBURN

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — A Hitler victory, even if confined to Europe alone, would bring an "economic drought" to western Canada beside which natural droughts of recent years would "pale into insignificance," Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared in an address at a recruiting rally here last night before entraining for Regina.

He told his audience loss of continental European markets had made Canadian agriculture the "first casualty of the war."

While measures were being adopted to meet this situation "there could be only one real solution—the defeat of the aggressors, the destruction of the totalitarian order and the restoration of freedom to Europe and other parts of the world."

Mr. King made an appeal to westerners of foreign nationalities to seize this opportunity of showing their devotion to the land of their adoption by fighting for it in this hour of crisis.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

He scouted the idea of some that young men would not come forward in sufficient numbers as volunteers to meet the need for manpower.

"No feeble reason for neglecting to answer the call to arms has ever been given than the excuse some give — that they are prepared to serve only when others are compelled to serve," he said.

He agreed there were those who, because of circumstances, could not serve as they would desire to serve. That would be understood by all.

If the issues were clearly understood the men would volunteer and a responsibility rested on those who "stood in the way of others who are seeking to make it clear."

But those who could serve and who do not answer the call, he said, "will bear through life the stamp of that failure."

Earlier in the day Mr. King had visited the Royal Canadian Air Force establishments in Prince Albert and attended a civic luncheon.

At the luncheon, he lifted the veil on some historic events of recent years. He declared that had war come at the time of the Outside the church the tomb of Oliver Goldsmith was partly buried in rubble. The Latin inscription of his effigy, written by his friend Dr. Johnson, was destroyed.

The Inner Temple gardens, which Shakespeare made the scene of the quarrel between supporters of Lancaster and York where red and white roses were picked as emblems of the two factions, are pitted with four bomb craters.

LAMB'S BIRTHPLACE

No. 10 Crown Office Court, where Thackeray had chambers, was destroyed. So was No. 2, where Charles Lamb was born and spent the first seven years of his life.

In Essex Court, blasted but still standing, John Evelyn, the 17th century diarist, lived.

Fig Tree Court, where Asquith had his first guinea brief, and Thackeray's Mr. Timmins had chambers, became a mass of rubble.

Inner Temple Hall was extensively damaged in early raids and subsequently was burned out. Part of the library was blown away but the books it contained were not harmed. Middle Temple Hall suffered heavy damage later.

A hole was blown through the upper part of the east wall, destroying the window tracery, the oak screen and the minstrel's gallery.

Gray's Inn also has been heavily damaged. Only the walls remain standing of its fine Elizabethan hall, chapel and library. Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" was produced there in 1594.

Sees Milk Shortage

TORONTO (CP)—Harry Scott, president of the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Association, said a serious shortage in milk throughout Ontario will arise unless dairy farmers receive more for their product.

He said the Ontario dairyman gets $2.25 or less a hundredweight for fluid milk and $1.60 or less for milk sent to condensaries.

"A critical condition in the milk industry is approaching," he said. "Rising costs to the farmer without regard to what is paid for his product are largely responsible."

Nanaimo Engineer Gives A.R.P. Report

NANAIMO—The City Council went into committee last night to consider what action should be taken on a report submitted by City Engineer A. G. Graham on his recent attendance at an air raid precautions school in Victoria.

The report urged Nanaimo work with Mayor V. B. Harrison as chairman of the A.R.P. Society if they wished it to become an efficient force.

No fire alarms sounded here during June, the fire chief reported. When the chief reported on the number of oil burners inspected, Alderman Charles Salter expressed the hope that people would go back to coal to help re-establish the industry here.

The City Council reported that money borrowed from the provincial government 20 years ago for the Soldiers' Better Housing Scheme here was coming due and the liability had to be met. Out of contracts remaining, 12 were being paid off on a reduced payment plan approved by the council.

In salary adjustments being considered, playground caretakers here, who are receiving $60 a month, were refused an increase. The City Hall janitor was granted a $5 increase on a salary of $40 a month.

Due to vandalism at the Central Sports ground the council will ask for police action.

Third reading was given to the land sales by-law authorizing Mayor Harrison and City Clerk Hackwood to sell to the government a half-acre strip of land in McLellan Valley.

The famous German gun used to bombard Paris in the First Great War had a range of 80 miles. It cost $8,000 to shoot a single shell.

Against Occupation

GEN. ROBERT E. WOOD, national chairman of the America First Committee said in Chicago occupation of Iceland by American naval forces "can be considered as another step to edge us into the war."

He said he believed conquest of the western hemisphere was not on the Nazi agenda and the United States could compete economically even if Europe and Asia were dominated by Germany and Japan.

Willkie Approves

WENDELL WILLKIE said in New York he believed "the occupation of Iceland was a necessary move."

"As a matter of fact," Willkie said, "I advocated such action in a speech I made at a unity rally in Chicago June 6 as a necessary precaution for the protection of the United States and insuring our ability to protect shipments to the British Isles."

Willkie added he hoped President Roosevelt would take "other necessary actions to further insure the delivery of our products to Britain."

When asked what steps he referred to, Willkie said he meant the use of the navy in patrolling the Atlantic and protecting American shipments.

'Wee Drap' Helps

RT. HON. MALCOLM MACDONALD, British High Commissioner to Canada, knows a recipe for British fortune. He told of a letter he received from "an old Scottish lady who is a veteran of many air raids."

"I give it to you lest by some mischance Hitler gets his way to the extent of bombing Toronto in some future period of the war," Mr. MacDonald said, quoting the letter:

"When the air raid warning sounds I take the Bible from the shelf and read the 23rd Psalm where it says 'Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me.' Then I put up a wee bit prayer. Then I take a wee drap o' whisky to steady my nerves. Then I get into bed and pull up the covers; and then I tell Hitler to go to hell."

'Something Colossal'

WILLIAM TURNER of London, senior general manager of Reuters' News Agency, said in Los Angeles he believed "something colossal is happening in Germany—something very close to revolution."

"Otherwise," he declared, "I do not believe Hitler would have dared to tackle so gigantic a task as an all-out war against the Soviet."

"He found himself in desperate need of food for German civilization and fuel for his mechanized army."

Turner's remarks were made in an interview upon his arrival aboard the liner Monterey from Australia. In it he expressed belief the German invasion was due to the fact the British blockade of the continent has been even more effective than is realized by the British War Ministry.

Nazi Morale Weak

Should the war against Germany develop into a long war, the will of the German people to continue the struggle will be the weak spot in the Nazi effort, RT. HON. MALCOLM MACDONALD said in Toronto.

If Hitler succeeded in overthrowing the independent Russian government he would control immeasurable resources. With the lives of scores of thousands of his soldiers the Nazi leader now was trying to "buy an insurance policy against our economic blockade."

"We may not be able to starve his war industries by depriving them of their raw materials," said Mr. MacDonald. "We may not be able in an initial frontal attack to destroy the military might of his great host of tanks and other bristling armament."

"But we can smash the will of the German people to continue the war."

"They will not stand up to bombing with the fortitude the citizens of Britain have shown. They will crumple under our bombs."

New Methods to Defeat Germany

Boost Speed, Keep Quality In U.S. War Plane Output

By DEVON FRANCIS

SEATTLE (AP)—Unlike the Germans, the United States is aiming for mass-scale production of military airplanes without any sacrifice of intricate mechanisms which insure high-grade performance.

Studies of German military airplanes show they are being made with the utmost simplicity of design. It permits their fabrication by semiskilled or even unskilled workmen. The goal is volume production.

American military planes are a contrast.

They are complex mechanisms, and the manufacturing of them in the last decade has become a fine art. Engines are sturdy but intricate. Miles of "plumbing," having to do with operation and performance, snake through the structure of a bomber. No half-trained pilot can fly an American fighter.

The goal of the United States is to retain the essential features of a complicated mechanism without sacrificing speed of production. It is installing in big factories like Boeing's Seattle plant machines designed to simplify the job of the individual workman and increase his output.

PRESS SPEEDS PRODUCTION

An example: Every aircraft engine is housed in a stainless steel cowl, a barrel-like contrivance to reduce the engine's resistance to the air. It used to require 50 minutes to form such a cowl with a standard drop-hammer operation and that was followed by a considerable amount of hammering out by hand.

Today finished cowls are being turned out by a single machine called a "triple-action press" at the rate of 240 an hour. Boeing's new factory bears testimony to the thoroughness with which engineers, in co-operation with the armed services, have planned to speed production to fulfill the 12,000-bomber program.

Shifts of workmen going to and from their posts in the factory use tunnels under the main floor. That prevents congestion and interruption of tasks.

'ON LINE' SYSTEM

The Boeing plant, like the other aircraft factories, has taken a chapter from the book of automobile manufacturing. Far in the interior of the main building the primary fabrication of parts is started. A control surface is put together here, and a rib which helps shape a wing, there.

The smaller parts are put together to make "sub-assemblies" as the locals of the work progress toward the doors where the completed planes are rolled out for their first test flights. Finally, comes the complete assembly and the inspector's check-over. Immediately behind each completed plane is another, awaiting only the finishing touches.

That is the aircraft maker's adaptation of the automobile maker's "on line" conveyor production.

WEATHER AIDS CROPS IN B.C.

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—General higher temperatures have been reported in most parts of British Columbia and growth in fruit, vegetable and field crops is excellent despite intermittent heavy rains, says the fifth horticultural report of the Department of Agriculture.

Anxiety in irrigated regions over lack of moisture has been relieved by showers of the past week and an adequate supply is assured for the season.

On Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands, strawberries are still picked but the crop is expected to be over by the end of the week. Loganberries are moving in volume, two carloads having rolled to the prairies this week, the report shows.

Vegetables are in good supply. First crop greenhouse tomatoes are past the peak, but carload movement is still in progress.

Warmer weather on the lower mainland has brought the cane fruit crop rapidly to peak and raspberries are in abundance while loganberries are on the market and vegetables are plentiful.

The water supply at Salmon Arm, Armstrong, Sarranto and main line points has been increased with the coming of heavy rains. Thinning is almost completed in the orchards and fruits are sizing rapidly. Apple scab is beginning to show up strongly in the McIntosh variety. Hail fell in the Salmon Arm region June 19, but damage was not extensive.

More than 17,000 radio programs are being presented daily in Canada and the United States.

Letters to the Editor

OFFER TO DR. FISHBEN

An open letter from C. Richard, National Anti-vivisection Society, Chicago, and addressed to Dr. Maurice Fishbein, was approved by delegates at the International Conference on Vivisection held recently in Philadelphia. The letter was sent to Dr. Fishbein. The suggestion made was that America is approaching a state of war and all activities not directly related to defence must be eliminated or curtailed, and as vivisection is one of most unimportant of all activities, the societies represented pledge themselves to halt all their activities from the day the U.S. enters the war until the day an armistice is signed, if laboratories throughout the country will stop the use of living animals in experimental work for the same period. In addition, the societies represented offer to contribute to national defence in any manner specified by the President of the United States a monthly sum equal to that at present paid to employees of anti-vivisection societies, if the laboratories in the U.S. will do likewise. If Dr. Fishbein declines this offer, the conference would reluctantly conclude that animal vivisection is more interested in their monthly pay cheques and in publicity than they are in national defence.

Hon. Secretary, Canadian Anti-vivisection Society, Victoria.

MAELSTROM

In response to R. H. Hill's letter, I enclose what he called for, "a bit of amateur criticism" on W. D. Munro's brochure.

Mr. Munro, while condemning past errors severely enough, bestows special commendation on three countries—Scotland, Spain and China. Scotland, of course, is ancient history, while Spain is now completely crushed out of the picture. But China has been, and still remains, a live issue, "the largest nation in the world with the oldest civilization," as "Maelstrom" puts it.

It has been impressive to see the great wheeling of democratic opinion, as it swept round slowly but surely, from the indifference of 1931 to the active aid of 1941, the 10 years since the Manchurian "incident," where force first showed its head. Furthermore, we cannot but remember that it is barely a year ago that the Burma Road was closed on the demand of Japan, a final flicker of that weakness which had been so ruinous for Britain.

But the last year has seen a great change. The road is reopened and supplies for China are pouring in, chiefly from America, who is also cutting out her assistance to Japan, given hitherto from consideration of policy.

As the writer puts it, "Britain is now aflame for liberty, and America has caught fire." It is useful and encouraging to be reminded of this today.

Mr. Munro has good command of English and rises to eloquence in the last section, "The Trumpet Call." The ovation to Bruno Wal-

Big Dinner Aids Victims

TORONTO (CP)—Nearly 1,000 friends and business associates of C. O. Knowles, editor of the Toronto Evening Telegram, paid him tribute last night at a $10-a-plate testimonial dinner, at which Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald predicted a break-up among the German people, and Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen said "distance is our great delusion."

The proceeds from the dinner went to the Telegram's British War Victim's Fund, which Mr. Knowles said was the "supreme reason" for the occasion. Nearly $7,000 was raised for the fund, which totaled $863,000 today.

The audience paying tribute to Mr. Knowles for his organization of the fund and testimony of his 45 years as a newspaperman, included leaders in all walks of life. Introducing Mr. Knowles, Lieut.-Col. the Rev. S. E. Lambert, O.B.E., hailed him as "a great Britisher."

The Conservative Senate leader, Meighen, found issue with those who "comfortably presume that it is some other people's faith that is in the balance and not our own."

The truth as spoken by all those who had been on the scene of the Battle of Britain is that Hitler is out to enslave the world, said Senator Meighen, adding: "We know what is in front of us, but we don't act as if we know."

"England is our last line," he said.

The committee in charge of the dinner sent a cable at the conclusion of the affair to the Lord Mayor of London, pledging all in attendance to march shoulder to shoulder with those of the Motherland to victory and peace.

A cable from Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born British supply minister, said the fund was "a project worthy of the Dominion and of the highest duties of the newspaper profession."

Lord Beaverbrook's message said "the magnificent result already achieved by the generous and patriotic enterprise of the Toronto Telegram aroused gratitude and admiration among the people of Britain."

ter at the Metropolitan in February makes an excellent climax.

"Maelstrom's prophecy of better times for the poor man in a new world, I don't touch on. That, too, is cheering."

VICTORY ASSURED

Surrounded by foes on every hand, Hated by all, the Axis band, Slowly but surely her end she'll gain.

Foes still think her gory will wane; England, Scotland, yea and Wales, Will conquer yet, while the Axis fails.

Surrounded by foes on every hand, Yet beloved of all save the Axis brand, Justice and freedom will yet be hers; She'll free others from want and cares; Kingdoms now downcast, lost in flight, Will come to know their nation's right.

JULY CLEARANCE

Indians Ordered

To Recognize Census

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—Two Indians who refused to answer questions by the census enumerator on the grounds that Indians on the Six Nations Reservation were immune to laws of Canada learned differently when Magistrate R. J. Gillen fined the men $20 and costs, with the option of 20 days in jail.

The Indians, Herbert Martin and Alex Hill, refused to answer questions put by Arnold Moses, enumerator.

When Chauce Garlow, ancient hereditary chief, was called to explain how the Indians had been given to understand that they were free from the laws of Canada, the old chief related how years ago a visit of Indian chiefs in Canada to the "Great White Chief" in England rendered them immune to the laws of Canada.

Acting Crown Attorney E. R. Read, K.C., told the court this immunity no longer existed and that a new system of elected councils carried on the business of the Indians and that they were expected to obey the laws of Canada the same as other Canadians.

To Be Extended

LONDON (CP)—Continuation of the Commonwealth Air Training plan after the agreement of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and New Zealand expires in 1943 was discussed today at a conference attended by Sir Archibald Sinclair, United Kingdom Air Secretary, C. G. Power, Canadian Air Minister, and Harold Balfour, United Kingdom Under-Secretary for Air.

The discussions on the future of the C.A.T.P.—the vast undertaking which assures a constant source of thousands of trained airmen for Britain's air fleet—constitute one of the most important objects of the Canadian Air Minister's trip to Britain.

Mr. Power, who said when he arrived it was "unthinkable" the plan would be discontinued, probably will resume his conferences with the British Air Ministry chiefs tomorrow. Together with Canadian High Commissioner Vincent Massey, Mr. Power will also meet the High Commissioners of Australia and New Zealand to discuss problems of the plan.

Speaker Advocates National Service

Advocating national service for all, a policy of conscription, H. N. McCorkindale told the Geyser Club at its luncheon meeting yesterday that this should be one of the prices of freedom. The speaker, who is superintendent of schools for the city of Vancouver, used "Democracy and Education" as his subject.

Mr. McCorkindale laid emphasis on freedom, saying that it wasn't something that could be attained for nothing, but a value for which a price must be paid, a price of vigilance and sacrifice. "In the last 20 years," he said, "democracy went decadent because we didn't give something complementary to maintain it. We must sacrifice, and if we don't, we are not entitled to freedom."

In advocating general conscription, he stated that if the people could not see it their duty to help, the state must see it. He mentioned that Lord Bryce, former ambassador from Britain to Washington, and the greatest living authority on democracy, said that Switzerland was more truly democratic than any other country in the world. This country has had conscription for the past 100 years, has had armament and arms mobilized during the whole of this time and has never used them illegally during this period, was the statement of the speaker.

He ended his talk with the statement that as long as eternity freedom would have to be defended from within and without, and if Canadian people were not prepared to do this they were not worthy to be free. Louis Glazan introduced the speaker.

LATEST ADDITION to the swelling list of Cobble Hill High School students who have donned uniforms are: Rolf Stuart, left, in the army, and Bill Easton, in the navy. Making an impressive list, other recruits from the up-island school are: G. Mudge, P. Whittaker, D. Allen, P. Allen, H. Monk, J. Monk, D. Sherring, W. Weber and W. Dennis, all in the army; C. Makepiece, D. Makepiece, W. Easton, C. Ross, S. Dyson and C. Williams, all in the navy; N. Bonner, P. LaFortune, W. Bomford, C. Page and W. Watson, all in the air force.

FOLLOW FATHERS—George Willmott and Allan M. Sheppard, right, have left for Camp Borden with the 13th Ambulance Corps. The two boys, friends for years and fellow-apprentices in the hardwood floor business, hope to go overseas shortly to join their fathers. Allan is the 20-year-old son of Lieut. and Mrs. T. Guy Sheppard; George, the son of Bill Willmott, 717 Belton Street and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Willmott. Both fathers are now in the active army overseas, Lieut. Sheppard with No. 7 Forestry Corps, presumably in Scotland. Allan enlisted last Monday and left for the east within the week.

Units Start Camp

Batteries of the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade (R.F.) started a two weeks' summer training period Sunday at local forts.

The 55th Heavy Battery will train until July 20 at Fort Mary Hill, the 60th Heavy Battery and headquarters at Fort Macaulay, and the 56th Heavy Battery at Fort Albert Head. Victoria and Vancouver troops of the 1st Searchlight Regiment, R.C.A. (R.F.) are in camp at Fort Rodd Hill.

The 55th Battery has six officers and 101 other ranks in camp; the 60th Battery six officers and 76 other ranks; the 56th Battery eight officers and 136 other ranks, and the 1st Searchlight Regiment 13 officers and 60 other ranks.

Before leaving for camp, the batteries paraded at the Woolen Mills building at Ogden Point.

Lectures Started At Observatory

In the first of a series of Saturday night lectures on astronomy throughout July and August at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Dr. J. A. Pearce, director of that institution, addressed 175 visitors on the subject "Double Stars" last Saturday evening.

During his nontechnical address, which started at 8 p.m., Dr. Pearce discussed the history of double stars as observed from 1650 to the present day. He showed lantern slides of double and multiple stars. At 9 p.m. the telescope was demonstrated, the visitors viewing the double star Alpha Hercules through the 72-inch refractor. This constellation is 470 light years from the earth.

Next Saturday, because of daylight saving time, the lecture and telescopic demonstration of Dr. A. McKellar will be presented from 9 until 11.

TIRES FROM MOLASSES

AKRON, O.—Making passenger-car tires from molasses may sound like the pipe-dream of an over-worked chemist, but it is perfectly possible, according to Dr. Waldo L. Semon, synthetic rubber specialist of the B. F. Goodrich Company. He reports that he used molasses as a source of synthetic rubber in his early researches that led to the discovery of Ameripol, the man-made rubber used in the first synthetic tires to reach the market.

Rubies were believed in ancient times to have the power to stop bleeding.

$12,235 SPENT ON PUBLIC WORKS

The Public Works Department of Esquimalt spent $12,235.66 of its total appropriation of $22,896.25 in the first six months of the year, the foreman of works, P. J. McCulloch, reported to the municipal council last night.

Mr. McCulloch's report, which gave a balance of $10,660.59 available for the rest of the year, was received and filed on motion of Councillor Albert Heald, chairman of works.

Road maintenance in the six months ending June 30 cost $6,628.93. Repair to sidewalks was another big cost during the period, $1,180.54 being spent. Garbage collection was the third big item, the amount being $1,600.

Other expenditures were: Grass cutting and removal of weeds $545.90, road signs $61.80, surface drains $43.49, private crossings $54.40, park maintenance $437.86, tools $75.24, repairs to machinery $100.61, municipal maintenance $508.47.

Sewer maintenance, which does not come under public works expenditures, amounted to $1,642.30.

A letter from John Dean protesting against nonenforcement of the speed laws on Esquimalt Road was received and filed.

Two employees of the municipality were granted their request that they be excluded from participation in the unemployment insurance scheme.

A petition from the outside employees of the municipality requesting a cost of living bonus was laid on the table.

The petition stated it was understood employees of other municipalities had received increases in wages due to the increase in the cost of living.

Reeve Alex Lockley said he had been told that outside employees of Saanich were not making as much money as the Esquimalt men.

He added that if the request was granted the schoolteachers of the municipality would be sure to ask for the same treatment.

Councillor Fred Eaton remarked that the same condition was arising almost everywhere.

He said the truck drivers were going after an increase in pay soon.

The Esquimalt Community Club asked for posters to advertise the band concerts in the Memorial Park. It was decided to supply the club with six posters to be placed in store windows.

Summer Voters Register Opposed

Cancellation of voters' lists in the urban areas of Greater Victoria and Greater Vancouver, a legal preliminary to a general provincial election, should not take place before September 1, Conservative Leader R. L. Maitland, K.C., said in an interview here today.

(This action, by statute, would make the election impossible before late in November.)

He said press dispatches from here suggest the lists may be canceled during the summer holidays and this would disfranchise thousands.

"Had the government reacted to public opinion, as a government in Great Britain would have done, there would have been an election in April," Mr. Maitland said, "because there was strong public disapproval of the war effort of the administration, culminating at the Sirols conference."

"According to dispatches appearing in Vancouver it is suggested the lists in Vancouver, Victoria, Oak Bay and New Westminster, containing practically half the voting strength of the province, might be canceled and new lists proceeded with during the summer holidays. It must be remembered that everyone desiring to vote in any of these ridings must personally sign an application to register. To attempt this during the summer vacation would be impossible on any fair basis."

"I have been obliged to criticize the government for many things but I could not conceive of their going to the country on a list made up in this way. It would mean disfranchisement of thousands and that cannot be."

"When the act was opened up last session I endeavored to have the cancellation eliminated because of the increased expense during war time. The government, having insisted on the cancellation of these lists, the public must insist on no cancellation before September 1."

(Under the new Elections Act 82 days must elapse between the time the lists are canceled and polling day.)

Must Abolish Fear of Want

Just as totalitarian states could not stand the realization of Roosevelt's first three freedoms—those of religion, expression and from terror—democracy was challenged by the fourth—freedom from want—Capt. Elmore Philpott, M.C., told Summer School students in an address "This Fight for Freedom," yesterday.

If peoples of the world had achieved freedom from want following the last war, there might have been no present conflict, he said, declaring that condition necessary if peace with justice were to be established. To show the necessity for action on that issue, he cited the totals who secured relief on the North American continent, declaring that in spite of the richness of the country, a large percentage was in a chronic state of want because of "the appalling, shriveled-up littleness" of man's own actions.

Dealing with the present conflict, he stated "for the first time in the history of man the civilized form of life is challenged by a system which makes virtues of those things which civilized men have always considered to be bad."

The speaker saw as the fundamental lie in the Nazi system the doctrine man was created for the state, contrasting it with the democratic principle the state was created for man.

The present conflict was not just another imperialistic war, another fight between those who had and those who had not. It was a fight to the death between two ways of life in which there could be no compromise, he said.

He pictured a world overrun by Hitler's armies, voicing the conviction freedom would eventually reassert itself, but noting the world would degenerate into another period of Dark Age slavery before it regained enlightenment if the Nazi system prevailed.

MUST DO JOB

To avert such a condition democracy, which, he said, had not done its job, had to get in and attack, both on the political and economic fronts as well as on the field of battle. It was necessary to make freedom the dynamic force needed to inspire such a battle, Capt. Philpott continued, discussing the Roosevelt quotation on freedoms.

He looked forward to a brighter era than the world had ever known, voicing the opinion that democracy would not cease when it had won the immediate battle, but would carry on to correct its own faults.

He considered the present apathy of certain elements to the war to be the outgrowth of too great emphasis on the negative side of war arising from the 1914-18 conflict.

The present difficulties could not be overcome by leaving them to someone else to solve, he said.

HIGHWAYS GOOD IN INTERIOR

Condition of highways throughout British Columbia is good, Phil Raymond of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau said today on his return from a 2,890-mile trip through British Columbia and Alberta.

Mr. Raymond visited 190 hotels, auto camps, travel bureaus, boards of trade, auto clubs and resorts on behalf of the publicity bureau during the trip. He distributed 15,000 pieces of literature describing Victoria and the island.

Tourist travel in the province is heavy, he reported. During June, 2,797 automobiles passed over the Big Bend Highway, in comparison with approximately 17,000 from June 29 to October 5 last year.

Mr. Raymond traveled over the Cariboo, Big Bend, Banff-Jasper, Banff-Windermere and Crow's Nest Highways on the trip. He went as far east as Medicine Hat.

SAVINGS POSTERS

Four prize-winning posters by Victoria school children have been sent to W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general for British Columbia, to be displayed in the British Columbia Services Canteen in London.

Mrs. H. S. Hurn, honorary secretary of the Vancouver Island War Savings Committee, said the posters had been chosen from a group sent to War Savings campaign officers in Ottawa.

A party of 35 women under Mrs. A. S. Christie and Mrs. Harold Beckwith is distributing other war savings posters drawn by children in a province-wide competition last March to stores and business premises in Victoria for display. This part of the War Savings Committee's drive was delayed by the War Services and Victory Loan appeals.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stepney, have moved to their new home at 566 Beach Drive, Oak Bay.

Miss Jeffery, Roccabella, has gone to Vancouver to spend a couple of months on the mainland.

After spending several days in Victoria with friends, Mrs. R. H. Lee has returned to her home in the Burgoyne Valley, South Salt Spring Island.

Mrs. H. Williams, Mrs. Hatchet and Mrs. Carter returned to their homes here yesterday after spending a week in Vancouver, where they have been attending the Mooseheart Conference.

Lieut. Harry G. Ellis, R.C.N. V.R., who left Vancouver recently for overseas service, has arrived safely in England, according to a cable received by his parents, Capt. and Mrs. W. Ellis, Beach Drive.

Miss Verna Beek entertained on Saturday afternoon at a tea at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel in honor of Miss Vivian Pennock, whose marriage will take place on July 12. The invited guests were Mrs. Gertrude E. Beek, Mrs. D. G. Pennock, Mrs. S. W. Mackintosh, Mrs. T. Stevenson, Misses Vivian Pennock, Patricia Pennock, Barbara Leigh, Margaret Vantreigh and Eve Lytton.

Miss Winnie Conroy, who is to be married shortly to Mr. Douglas C. Thomas, was the guest of honor when her sister, Miss Kay Conroy, entertained at a kitchen shower at her home on Collinson Street. After the arrival of all the guests, the bride-to-be was presented with a box prettily decorated in pink, white and green, which contained the many useful gifts, and also received a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations. Sweet peas, gladioli and carnations decorated the rooms. Games were played and prizes awarded to the holders of lucky plates at the supper table. Mrs. P. Conroy poured tea at the lace-covered table, for which pink and white carnations in a green vase, lighted by pale green tapers in silver holders, made an attractive background for the centerpiece, a bride's cake surmounted by a tiny bridal couple. Other guests were Mesdames C. Cairnes, J. Simmons, I. Carey, E. Callan, H. Connor, A. O. Lee and Misses Kay McKenzie, Rosella MacDonald, Irene Whittaker, Lilian Simmons and Gwen Thornett.

Mrs. Marie Christiansen of Des Moines, Iowa, grand regent of the Women of the Moose, and Miss Margaret Magee, associate regent of the Ontario W.O.M., arrived on Sunday, after attending the convention in Vancouver, and were entertained here by members of the order, Mrs. H. The visitors were taken for a drive round the city in the morning and to the Saanich Peninsula and Mr. Butchart's Gardens in the afternoon, followed by supper at the home of Mrs. H. Parker, 3142 Irma Street. The tables were decorated with summer flowers in red, white and purple, the colors of the order. Corsage bouquets and souvenir gifts were presented to the visitors, who were welcomed on behalf of Victoria Chapter No. 25 by the hostesses. Corsage bouquets were also given to three charter members, Mrs. M. Morry, Mrs. M. Willmott and Mrs. R. Panting, as well as to two graduate regents, Mrs. M. Pearce and Mrs. P. Hunkin. Other members attending the party were Mesdames E. Murcheson, S. Wetherell, E. Grossehmig, E. Burke, M. Hynes and Miss L. Weeks, Mr. G. Parker, Mr. J. Pearce and Miss D. Parker. Miss Magee left on Sunday night for Vancouver and Mrs. Christiansen left yesterday for Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Pendray entertained the Victoria branch of the Overseas League at tea at their home, "Havenwood," Esquimalt Lagoon, yesterday afternoon. Nearly 90 members spent a delightful afternoon wandering through the lovely grounds, and inspecting the aviaries, and tea was served in the house from a table arranged with a centerpiece of pastel-shaded sweet peas and silver tapers. Mrs. W. Finmore, in her costume as "Piccadilly Kate," sold lavender and statice in aid of the league's war funds, and a large fruit cake, made and donated by Mrs. Anthony Lumley, was disposed of for the same cause. Before departing, Mr. Darrell expressed the thanks of the guests to Mr. and Mrs. Pendray, this being followed by hearty cheers.

Delegates attending the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' convention were guests at an informal reception held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cameron, "Roseboro," Purcell Place. Masses of summer flowers were used throughout the rooms, where Miss Ethel James, president of the Victoria branch of the federation, received, with Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, and other members of the local reception committee, were on hand to greet the out-of-town visitors. Supper was served from a table graced with a bowl of sweet peas. On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green, convener of the reception committee, entertained about 20 of the Winnipeg delegates to tea at her home at Esquimalt, and on Sunday evening Mr. Reginald Cox, chairman of the program committee, and Mrs. Cox entertained the prairie delegation at their home on Fort Street.

Last evening Miss Florence Malcolm, whose marriage to Mr. Ian Jack will take place this month, was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. H. D. Gordon Roberts and Miss Florence Keiser at the home of the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. L. J. Keiser, Howe Street. On their arrival the guest of honor and her mother were each presented with corsage bouquets, Miss Malcolm's being of pink carnations and Mrs. Malcolm's, rosebuds. The gifts were placed in a cleverly-made ship in colorings of pink and white and was piloted into the room by little Miss Kathleen Roberts, who dropped a silver anchor when she reached the bride-elect. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a lace cloth, centred with pink carnations and pink tapers in silver holders. Women of Moose Aid War Effort, Reports Show

Last year 52 new chapters were formed of the Women of the Moose and the order has invested $10,000 in English war bonds, Mrs. Marie Christiansen, Grand Regent, from Des Moines, Iowa, U.S.A., told delegates attending the women's convention, held in conjunction with the annual Northwest Moose conference in Vancouver on July 3, 4 and 5.

The regional director of Canada, Norman G. Heyd, gave an impressive outline of what Moose were doing in this great conflict, noting that the Supreme Lodge in Washington, D.C., has invested $45,000 in Dominion of Canada war bonds and has set aside to her disposal money for the transportation and expenses incurred in bringing 500 refugees to Canada, 250 of them to be admitted to Mooseheart and 250 in homes of Moose members.

Canadian Moose lodges and chapters have pledged themselves to raise $25,000 for the British Moose Relief Fund and U.S.A. members will match this dollar for dollar.

Already $2,000 has been raised and sent to England, he said.

Mrs. B. Osborne of Seattle chapter, honor chapter of the northwest for the third year, was conference leader. Fifteen chapters were represented from the State of Washington and seven chapters from British Columbia, also representatives from Toronto, Edmonton, New York, San Francisco and Des Moines, Iowa.

A class of candidates was initiated by Seattle officers and escorts. An impressive ceremony at 9, when Women of the Moose renewed their pledge to childhood, was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Beaman of Seattle.

Messages of welcome were received from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mayor Corbett of Seattle at the opening session. Mrs. Margaret Magee of Toronto, associate regent of the Ontario W.O.M., was a special visitor.

On Friday, evening the delegates enjoyed a moonlight excursion, and on Saturday the conference concluded with a banquet and ball at the Hotel Vancouver.

Bomb-shocked Kiddies Get Thrill at Canadian Jam

LONDON — The other day a thin, haggard little boy from one of Britain's bombed industrial cities arrived at a war nursery in Worcestershire just in time for tea. He was pale, he was jumpy, he was irritable—the result of vicious German air raids. Worse still—he was completely destitute, since his father and mother had been crushed to death when their tenement slum house collapsed like a matchbox over their heads during one blitz. The little chap didn't say much as he went in for his tea. Around him were 32 other children—all under five years of age—all of them orphaned by the war.

The little newcomer took his tea silently, but he was hungry and he grabbed a sandwich with an eager fist. He bit into the thick slices of fresh bread, chewed a moment and then he did a strange thing. He lifted the top slice of his sandwich, took a good look at the filling and then shrieked with delight: "Why it's jam, matey, it's lovely jam!" And for a little while that small boy, not yet five years old, who had seen and felt and suffered from the horrors of German warfare, just for a while that small chap forgot it all in the wonderful luxury of sweet, home-made jam sandwiches.

JAM VERY SCARCE

Jam is terribly scarce in England now—it is rationed at ½ pound per person a month. How did that war nursery in Worcestershire get such a generous supply for tea?

Well, there's a story in that, too. Early that morning the matron of the nursery, Miss Doris W. Houchin, had been reviewing the food situation with the cook. They had been working hard to give these bomb-shocked kiddies a balanced diet to make them rosy and healthy once more. Stringent food rationing made that diet a problem, even when the matron and the cook turned over their sugar quotas to the children. The menus still lacked the energy content given by sugar and Vitamin C from fruit. That morning as the two women studied charts and examined cupboards they found the jam supply was just at an end. That meant no more tempting desserts, no more jelly at breakfast, no more sandwiches at tea.

But before the morning was over their worries were at an end. A truck arrived at the front door of the war nursery. Three big crates were carried inside by a khaki-uniformed driver. The matron looked at the boxes and saw on the side of each one the magic letters: "C.R.C.S."—Canadian Red Cross Society. There could be only one thing in those boxes—food, supplies, jam, fruits.

BLESSES CANADIANS

Miss Houchin, the matron, rushed into the kitchen for the cook and together they ripped open the crates. They found what they had hoped for—food, supplies, jam, fruits. The cook sat down on the floor and lifted out a tin of the precious food. Her worries were over for a few weeks. She could give her orphans meals with the right kind of food and as she held a tin up for inspection she said to the matron: "Bless those Canadian women."

START TOMORROW

It is to continue this work that Victoria women volunteers are starting to make jam again tomorrow morning at 10 in the rooms over the Market Building. The Red Cross is supplying the cans and sugar, the B.C. Electric Company has generously installed the stoves, and it is up to the generous public of Victoria and district to supply the fruit, rhubarb, etc., to make into the jam which means so much to the sugar-deprived children of Great Britain.

Last year the Victoria committee, sponsored by the Local Council of Women, made over 3,000 pounds of jam for this purpose. They hope to double or treble the amount this season. Mrs. P. Rayment, convener, E.9705, will gladly answer inquiries.

Clubwomen's News

Pro Patria W.A. met in the clubrooms on Friday, Mrs. B. Ripley the president, in the chair. Numerous letters of thanks were read from the boys in the services for parcels sent to them, and also from the Commo Ladies' Auxiliary for a donation. The convention will be held in New Westminster from July 31 to August 6. For further information phone E1884. A garden party will be held at the home of Mrs. Jennings, Munro Street, Esquimalt, on July 31. Home cooking, bingo and tea will be served. Hospital visitors for the month are Mrs. Moon and Mrs. Ball.

The W.A. No. 65 to the Typographical Union No. 201 held a successful garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dunn, 319 Burnside Road. The guests were received by the president, Miss Eileen Chislett. The vice-president, Mrs. Bertha Griffiths, was in receipt of customs. Refreshments were served by the members. Mrs. Coldwell had charge of the contest. Tea cups were read by Mrs. McCague. Dainty little Claudia Spouse, a pupil of Sonya's School of the Dance, delighted all with her dancing. Mr. J. D. Davidson, president of No. 201, presented a cheque from the union to Mrs. W. R. Dunn, delegate to the W.I.A. convention to be held in August.

Chapter Fete at Mrs. G. Hepburn's

At the monthly meeting of the Florence Nightingale Chapter I.O.D.E. Monday afternoon, with the regent, Mrs. J. Baker, in the chair, final arrangements were made for the garden party to be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Hepburn, "Casadora," Beach Drive, tomorrow, under the general convenship of Mrs. D. W. Burnett. An interesting program of dancing and music has been arranged and there will be a home cooking stall, house-hold, bingo, fortune telling and many other attractions. Half of the proceeds will be devoted to the Spitfire Fund and the other half to the hospital work.

Mrs. R. W. Marsh, war convener, reported that comforts to the value of $18.45 had been forwarded for the services, and layettes to the value of $30.50 for the bombed children's fund; one dozen pairs of sleepers will

Prisoners of War Receiving Parcels

The first cards from British prisoners of war in Germany, giving proof that food parcels sent from Canada are being received, are coming to National Red Cross headquarters, Toronto, daily.

Prisoners are particularly delighted with the contents of Canadian parcels, according to Guardsman Arthur Hook, taken prisoner at Dunkurque, who has written the following to his sister, Miss Wynne Hook, 2146 Grand Boulevard, Montreal:

"We have just received an issue of Red Cross parcels (my third since I've been prisoner). Some chaps were extremely fortunate and got the Canadian parcels. What lovely parcels! A pound tin of butter (real butter), honey, and a host of other good things. I want you to see about getting me a parcel like that, with one addition—a couple tins of peanut butter. I dream of the stuff."

Red Cross officials believe the first Canadian food parcels, to be distributed in Germany, were in a shipment of 5,000 sent to Marseille on the American Red Cross Mercy Ship, which were reported by International Red Cross representatives to have arrived in splendid condition.

The Canadian Red Cross is packing 15,000 food parcels a week for British prisoners of war in Germany at the request of the British Red Cross.

Clothes Rationed But Style Shows Still Go On

By DOUGLAS AMARON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Clothes rationing may cut down a woman's wardrobe but it hasn't lessened her interest in fashion.

Lorgnetted dowagers who haven't missed a "show" in 30 years and attractive members of London's younger set to whom the right gown may mean the difference between social success and failure, turned out in full force to see Norman Hartnell's summer collection.

They all knew that one flowing evening gown might cost a year's clothes coupons—66—but pretty dresses always attract women, especially when they are designed by the Queen's dress-maker.

Inside Hartnell's fashionable Mayfair studio it was hard to realize there was a war. The display was scheduled for mid-afternoon and 50 chairs, all tagged with names of the women invited, were filled before the first mannequin appeared.

There was no formality to the display. Three mannequins showed all the models, with the only introduction the name of the gown—"Tip-Top," or "Toujours," or "Argentina."

Day dresses were trim but serviceable. Many were worn with matching jackets, embroidery was used freely and tucks were popular. Square shoulders and below-the-knee skirts were the general fashion.

Square, low-neck front and high backs featured most of the evening dresses. Sweeping skirts trailed along the ground, some revealing just a glimpse of leg through 18-inch slits up the side.

New York Claiming World's Fashion Title

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City yesterday proclaimed itself to be the successor—on merit—to Paris as the world's fashion centre.

The price means nothing. You can get a day frock for $1.95 or an evening gown for $295.

In ceremonies at City Hall marking the sewing of the first "New York creation" labels in 20 dresses designed for the fall trade, Mayor LaGuardia declared triumphantly:

"New York has assumed the leadership because the creative talent is here, the skill and mechanical talent is here and there are more women in our country wearing pretty clothes than in any other country in the world. New York City is the fashion centre of the world from now on."

"For a long, long time it was believed that a dress, in order to be fashionable, had to be designed in Paris. That is not true."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who participated in the ceremonies, said it was necessary to have a public with taste in order to promote a fashion centre, and she credited the Works Progress Administration with elevating the country's taste.

The New York Dress Institute, whose 800 manufacturers make about 78,000,000 of the country's annual output of 90,000,000 dresses, and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, are promoting a campaign to make the American republics alert to New York creations.

Funeral Tomorrow Of Mrs. E. C. Hart

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Margaret Janet Hart, wife of Dr. E. C. Hart, who died on Sunday evening. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., will officiate, after which the remains will be cremated at Royal Oak.

Mrs. Hart was born in Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, in 1867, the eldest daughter of Archibald and Graves McPhee, being of United Empire Loyalist stock on her mother's side. She was educated in her native province, matriculating from Pictou Academy, and attended Dalhousie University after winning a Munro Bursary and graduated in 1894. She taught for one year in River John and later was appointed principal of Baddeck Academy, being the first woman principal in Nova Scotia. During this time she prepared for and took her Master of Arts degree extramurally.

AUTHOR OF BOOK

She was an authority on the early history of Nova Scotia and New England, and was the author of a book, "Janet Fisher Archibald," dealing with the genealogy and the struggles of the pioneers of these areas.

Coming to Victoria as a bride in 1898, Mrs. Hart took a keen interest in educational matters, being a charter member of the University Women's Club, an active member of the B.C. Historical Association, and of the Women's Canadian Club, being convener of the latter's committee, which arranged for the writing and publication of the book "Pioneer Women of Vancouver Island."

When Col. Hart went overseas in 1915 as officer commanding No. 5 Canadian General Hospital, Mrs. Hart and family took up residence on a farm at Albert Head. After the war, Mrs. Hart loaned her house on Courtney Street, fully equipped, to the Red Cross as a hostel for nursing sisters.

Today's list raised to 369 the total navy dead and missing reported since the war started.

CHINESE ARMIES TO TAKE OFFENSIVE

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Chinese-Japanese war has just gone into its fifth year with a virtual stalemate along the 2,800-mile front, where the armies of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek were reported preparing for an attempt to seize the offensive.

The Chinese say they have 5,000,000 soldiers in the field and 10,000,000 more in reserve or in training, while Japan's position, as seen through Chinese eyes, is unchanged—"a million Japanese troops bogged down in the Chinese quagmire."

Chinese guerrillas observed the fourth anniversary of the war by attacking the Shanghai-Hanchow railroad within the Shanghai city limits, dynamiting a large section of track.

(A dispatch from Hongkong today said a complete blockade of the south China coast was claimed by the Japanese army, as it reported the capture of Wongkong, seaport on the border of Kwangtung and Fukien provinces, 200 miles north of Hongkong. The Japanese described Wongkong as the last loophole on the China coast through which war materials could be sent to the Chinese.)

GANGES — The ladies' aid to the United Church at Ganges met at the home of Mrs. J. Manson, Rainbow Road, when reports were heard from the various officers and the financial statement given. The combined Ladies' Aid and Sunday school picnic was arranged for July 30 and will be held at Mr. and Mrs. T. Royne's. Mrs. S. Donkersley entertained recently at her home, Forby House, in honor of her daughter Anne's fifth birthday. Games and contests were enjoyed and tea was served.

The children of St. George's Sunday school spent a happy time when Mrs. V. C. Best entertained at "The Alders," Ganges Harbor, for their annual garden party and tea. The afternoon was spent in tennis and other games, including treasure hunts, the senior one being won by Lawrence Cartwright and the junior by Eugene Rogers. Consolation prizes were awarded to Greg Macintosh and Dick Macintosh. The prize for attendance was won by Lawrence Cartwright, the senior class prize going to David Spalding, the junior prizes being taken by Patricia Cartwright and Donald Abbott, Michael Abbott gaining special mention.

Germans Taking Over French Holdings in Turkey

By PRESTON GROVER
ISTANBUL (AP)—German bankers, pursuing the German conquest of Europe in the wake and sometimes in advance of the Nazi armies, have begun buying out French and Belgian holdings in Turkey.

For money they apparently are using funds extracted from the occupied countries.

WIDE CAMPAIGN

The present operations in Turkey, as described by a competent source, are only a small part of the campaign which began with the Nazi occupation of Paris, where the writer learned some of the details.

Using both financial and political pressure, the Germans are ferreting out the vast network of French investments in Europe to supply their increasing demands for foreign exchange.

Although French and Belgian investments in Turkey are comparatively small, Germany needs their credits in Turkey to pay for increased purchases there. A score of German bankers arrived in a group a few weeks ago.

Germany gets 400,000,000 francs daily from France under the armistice agreement to pay costs of the Nazi occupation. But since the actual cost is reported to be

Need U.S. Manpower

GEN. SIR CLAUDE AUCHINCLOSS, new commander-in-chief of British forces in the Middle East, said in Cairo United States manpower was needed if the war was to be won properly—"on Germany's own soil."

"And it must be won properly, not half won," he told correspondents.

The commander, who exchanged posts with Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell last week, was former commander-in-chief in India.

"I've always thought the war must be won in Europe, in Germany, on Germany's own soil," he replied to queries.

"They must be beaten in the way Napoleon was beaten. Therefore, I see as much need for American manpower in this war as in the last. In 12, 14 or 24 months this need will certainly arise. How we are to get into the Germans' country is another matter, but ways and means will present themselves."

much less than that, a surplus is left over with which to buy out French holdings in France and abroad. (The franc has a nominal value of about 2.3 cents.)

The Germans, therefore, can afford to make enticing offers for French foreign investments.

For example, they are offering the French 35 to 37 francs per Turkish lira, while the present rate of exchange is 33 francs for the lira.

If enticing offers fail, pressure on the Vichy government may be brought to bear, for example, the informant said that when Germany bought control last winter of the Bor Mines in Yugoslavia, the principal holders were summoned to Vichy and told they must sell as part of the "collaboration" with Germany.

DETAILS on the recent victory of athletes from the First Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment in the monster track and field meet held at Camp Debert on Dominion Day are contained in a letter we received today from Roy (Cap) Thorsen, former member of the Times staff, now with the services.

Cap writes as follows: "You probably got the news over the wire that Victoria's Canadian Scottish marked up a great victory over all units of the Third Division in Camp Debert at the recent track and field day. They piled up 54 points, twice as many as the Winnipeg Rifles, who wound up second.

"It was sure a monster meet, and was held on the new, big sports field recently completed at the camp. More than 600 soldier athletes from Third Division units participated, and thousands of khaki-clad comrades, along with many civilians, were on hand to watch the events. I saw the fastest running I've ever had the pleasure to look at, in the 220, 440, 880 and relay events.

"Sports are very much encouraged in the army. In fact, two half days a week are set aside for sports as part of the training program, and there are plenty of fine athletes of many sports in the camp. The Scottish regiment boosts sports strongly and has equipment for nearly every sport on the books, including hockey, baseball, softball, soccer, English rugby, basketball, all phases of track and field, box lacrosse, horseshoe pitching and, yes, even cricket and boxing. Oh, yes, I forgot to mention volleyball. It's the most popular game in the camp and quite strenuous. I know, because I tried it.

"We've got a chap here who answers to Don Cameron. He's a Sudbury heavyweight boxer of some note. Well, he's the most tireless athlete I've ever seen and does most of the work in bringing our company up on top, or near the peak, in track and field. He started out one battalion sports day with five tug-of-war pulls in the morning. In the afternoon he ran and won the 220, 440, half-mile, medley, one-mile, took part in the shotput and hammer throw, hop-step-and-jump, and wound up his busy day by pulling in the tug-of-war in the evening.

"I was on one of the semifinal teams. Let me tell you I never felt so hard worked in my life before. The strain at one time was so prolonged that my hands just went limp on me. I couldn't use my fingers for some time after, my kidneys were sore, and I thought my legs had been snapped off at the shins.

"Well, I guess that's the works for this time, except to say hello! to my friends in Victoria, especially those among the angling and hunting fraternity. I hope the Saanich anglers have another big season, with the salmon bigger than ever."

Those sports fans who appreciate watching a great tennis player in action should take in the sports short now showing at the Capitol Theatre, featuring the amazing strokes and court ability of Bill Tilden. Recognized as just about the peer of players over the last century, Tilden, now an old man in sports rating, can still face the best in the world across a net with a good chance to finish on the long end of the score.

Subpar Golf the Order

Bassler, Harrison Tops

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Dark horse Harry Bassler and experienced campaigner E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, neither ranked among the top heavy stars, defeated the rest of the field yesterday to share the lead at the halfway mark of 36-hole qualifying tests in the 1941 United Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Each clubbed a 68, three under par for Cherry Hills, to lead a parade of 98 entrants in the pro's annual ball belting festival to determine the headman of their organization.

Par for the water-trapped mile high layout with its lightning fast greens is 35-36-71. Bassler, from Los Altos, Calif., moved out in front with a 31-37. Harrison turned in the most consistent round. He put together a pair of 34s with a blazing finish of birdies and a par.

Starting favorite Ben Hogan, the Texas-born marksman, ended in a tie at par 71 with Henry Ransom, young fellow Texan from Fort Worth.

One shot behind the leaders rested Sammy Snead, the 1940 Canadian open champion. The Virginia cannon ball roamed the outgoing stretch in 35 and came home with 36.

Craig Wood, winner of the United States open title last month, coupled a pair of 38s for his 76.

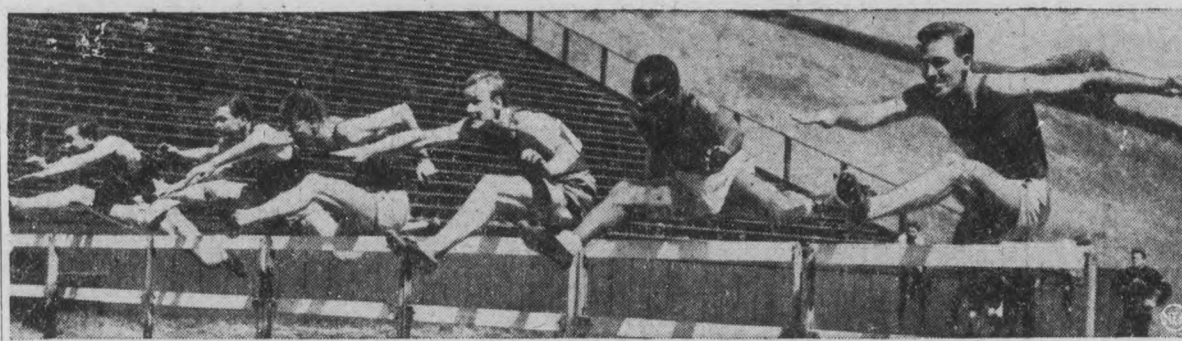

CIVICS ALMOST PULL FAST ONE

Civics, who have been resting in the local softball cellar for the last two months, just about squeezed into some sunshine last night when they dropped a 9 to 8 decision to the high-rising Chinese Recreation Club. A C section contest, it was anyone's game from the first to last innings.

McLennan, McFeely & Prior kept up its winning streak of recent weeks when, last night, it clubbed Hudson's Bay all around Central Park for a 26 to 7 victory. The fifth and eighth innings, in each of which the winner scored nine runs, took the heart out of the Bay men.

Derringer Seeks $65,000 Damages

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Paul Derringer, ace pitcher for Cincinnati Reds, alleged in a damage suit yesterday that his playing efficiency had been "greatly reduced," as a result of an eye injury suffered when he struck his head against a scaffolding in a Tampa electrical supply store here last November.

Derringer is suing Raybro Electric Supplies Inc. for $65,000 on the ground that the scaffolding was "negligently and carelessly" placed above the door after he entered and that "no warning of the obstruction was given to him when he started to leave."

First papers in the suit were filed in April but the declaration, setting forth the basis of the action, was not filed until yesterday.

Orillia Terriers Out of Lacrosse

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP)—Decreased attendance at their home games has forced Orillia Terriers to withdraw from the Ontario Lacrosse Association, it was announced yesterday.

Club officials said lack of first-class playing material forced Terriers to play in the senior B group of the O.L.A. This season instead of the senior A group where they played previously.

Last week St. Catharines Athletics, Dominion champions, withdrew from the senior A series when the association upheld a decree that Doug Cove must play with Hamilton this year. Last season he played with Hamilton but this year he refused, declaring he preferred to play with the Athletics.

WHITE TURNED DOWN

DENVER (AP)—Byron (Whizzer) White, Colorado all-American football star who played with the Detroit Lions' professional team last fall, volunteered for enlistment in the marine corps but was rejected because of color blindness, the recruiting office disclosed yesterday. Whizzer failed in perception of green in the color vision test for recruits.

Bays-Alerts Clash

Skellern Transfers

Alerts and Bays don their war toggery again this evening and for the fourth time this season will go after each other's scalps, the so-called experts predicting that the latter tribe will be the survivor after the usual 60 minutes of lacrosse warfare.

In all games this season Ted Menzies' blue-clad braves have beaten the red-sweated lads in games in which the play was better than the off-balance scores would indicate. But the Alerts, staunch fellows, keep wading back asking for extra helpings, but all the time improving.

Affairs will be a little clouded tonight. Players of both teams are out in army camp for their annual two weeks' service. Menzies, who definitely doesn't believe in taking chances, especially when there is a 10-game winning streak to maintain, bustled with all thoroughness a few days ago among military authorities, had his players excused guard duty on the evenings they were needed to hold up matters for the team, and will have them all in uniform for the night's doings.

But, alas, the Alerts. They have three men missing in the same service, Norm Coates, Harold Price and Jimmy Pickford, all of whom are performing their duties much farther from the city than the Bay players. Harry Sargison just doesn't know what to expect, but he has his fingers crossed and is hoping his hardest for the best, having a slight hunch they will all be present. But on a more optimistic note, Jimmy Skellern's transfer from Jokers to Alerts went through speedily last evening and he, to right, will be in goal, blocking in all manliness that spherical, hardened rubber missile known to the layman as a lacrosse ball. And Jimmy is by no means a rookie. The game will start at 8:30.

In the preliminary Heahey's, who, all season, have been rummaging around the lacrosse bar for just one quaff of victory, will meet the mighty McLean's Bakery, unbeaten and king of all they survey. This fixture will open at 7.

Eagles Score Lone Run Win

Eagles retained their unbeaten record in the Rithet Cup baseball series last night by taking the Tiliacums 9 to 8. It marked the third straight victory for the lodgement in the battle for the city championship.

Hitting was the highlight of the engagement, with the Eagles collecting 15 and the Tiliacums 11. Six of the hits went for extra bases. Noel Morgan, first sacker of the evening with a triple, double and three singles in five trips to the plate for a perfect evening.

Twice during the nine innings the Tiliacums were on the right end of the score but were unable to hold the Eagles, who finished with a bang, scoring six runs in the last two innings. The Tiliacums made a game effort to pull the game out of the fire in their half of the ninth, pushing four runners home.

Each club worked a pair of hurlers, Curry and Davies for the Eagles and Musgrave and Leonard for the Tiliacums.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Eagles	9	15	2
Tiliacums	8	11	3

Batteries—Curry, Davies and Bridgewood; Musgrave, Leonard and Condon.

Heavyweight Fight Off For Second Time

NEW YORK (AP)—The Abe Simon-Joe O'Gatty fight was postponed again last night, but they're going to keep on trying.

Rained out last Monday, the bout between the oversized New Yorker and the Newark, N.J., heavyweight was set back a day and then put off until last night when someone forgot to get a pair of boxing gloves big enough to fit Abe's hands. When it rained again yesterday, the bout was postponed until July 21. Another card already had been arranged for next week.

Amateur Sport Exempt From Tax

OTTAWA (CP)—Sports events, staged for the benefit of sport itself or for charitable purposes, will operate under exemption from the 20 per cent excise tax recently imposed on tickets of admission to spectator entertainment, officials of the National Revenue Department said today.

"It is difficult to say that any one sport is exempt and another not," said one official. "But there is this reasonably clear line of demarcation—any league operating in any sport for profit must pay the tax on admissions and any league operating for the good of the game or for charitable purposes is exempt."

This means, it was added, that any team eligible to compete for Canadian amateur sports championship trophies, such as the Allan Cup or the Memorial Cup may be considered exempt from the tax.

"All known professional sports events are taxable," said the official.

Williams' Homer In 9th Decides

BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit (AP)—Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox smashed a terrific home run nearly to the top of the right field stands with two mates on base in the ninth inning to climax a four-run rally and give the American League All Stars a 7 to 5 victory over the National League in a thrilling battle before 54,674 fans here today.

Two were out, Joe Gordon, New York Yankees, was perched on third base and Joe DiMaggio, another Yankee, on first, when Williams caught one of Chicago Cubs' Claude Passeau's Sunday pitches just right to wrap up the game. The ball hit the balustrade only about 15 feet from the top of the towering stand. The crowd swarmed on the field even before Ted had rounded third base, and accompanied him in a happy parade across the plate.

The crowd, third largest in the history of the all-star games and strongly pro-American League, had almost taken a National League victory for granted after Arky Vaughan, Pittsburgh shortstop, got through with whipping the A.L. pitchers.

Vaughan spanked a homer in the seventh inning with one mate on base and duplicated this feat in the eighth, giving the National Leaguers a 5 to 2 margin.

OPEN SCORING

American Leaguers opened the scoring in the fourth when Cecil Travis and Ted Williams punched out successive doubles. The National League tied the score in the first of the sixth on a double by Bucky Walters, sacrifice, and fly out to the outfield.

When Walters lost his control the American League stars regained the lead in their half of the sixth. Joe DiMaggio and Jeff Heath waited out for walks and the former scored on Lou Boudreau's single to centrefield.

Nationals unloaded a barrage of hits on Sid Huson, Washington Senators pitcher in the first of the seventh. Enos Slaughter opened with a single to left field and advanced to second when the ball got away from outfielder Ted Williams. Vaughn then hit his first home run. Billy Herman gave the Nationals their third hit of the inning with a double down the third-base line, but died on base.

The preliminary hearing of three sailors, Frank Jenner, Marcus Edward Doyle and Frederick Pheasey, charged with having carnal knowledge of Della Ekland, was adjourned in City Police Court today until tomorrow when cross-examination of the girl will be made by counsels for the defendants.

Stuart Henderson appeared for Doyle and Pheasey, and J. Howard Harman for Jenner.

Music Convention

Teachers, Artists, Speakers Gather From Distant Parts

From all parts of western Canada music teachers converged on Victoria today for the 4th biennial convention of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Associations.

From east and west, north and south, music teachers, young and old, those well established in the world of music and young people just starting their careers, registered at the Empress Hotel for the four-day convention.

Leading figure undoubtedly is Sir Ernest MacMillan, Canada's most famed musician, head of the University of Toronto faculty of music. From across the line came Lazare Saminsky, director of New York City's three-choir festival, and Theodore F. Norman, of the Washington State Music Teachers' Association. Jan Cherniavsky and Jean Coulthard, Adams are well-known Vancouver musicians in town for the convention; Arthur Benjamin, noted British musician, now living in Vancouver, is also here, as is Dr. Frederick Staton, British adjudicator. Stanley Blight, music critic of the Vancouver Sun, and R. J. Jamieson, music critic of the Vancouver Province, are also here.

The federation, she said, at one time contemplated canceling the 1941 convention because of the war, but decided "it was our duty to go on steadily building on the foundation laid with such high hopes."

Music teachers were not indifferent to the war, she said, "rather are we determined to carry on with our work in such a way that we shall contribute a share to our country's endeavor."

The federation, she said, emphasized the democratic principle—each province conducted its own business, retained its individuality and developed along its own lines.

She spoke of the number of professional people who had been diverted, by world conditions, to Canada and welcomed them.

"We hope the mingling of the old traditions which they bring to us, with our new, will result in friendship, co-operation and mutual benefit," she said.

Miss Maude McGuire of Moose Jaw presented the secretary-treasurer's report; Reginald Cox of Victoria spoke for the Canadian Music Teacher, the federation's magazine, of which he is editor and reports were presented from each of the western provinces.

At a buffet tea in the ballroom, following the business, the teachers heard Miss Gwendolyn Owen Davies of Winnipeg play Chopin's Sonata in B minor. Nancy Paisley Benn of Vancouver was at the piano.

This evening a formal dinner will be held at the hotel, featured by an address by Sir Ernest MacMillan, and a program of music, in which Jean and Robert Pounder of Moose Jaw will play two piano compositions and Madame Marie Rodker, with Sir Ernest at the piano, will sing.

At the formal opening in the Empress ballroom this afternoon, Mayor McGavin welcomed the delegates, on behalf of the citizens, to Victoria. He said he knew something of music, for he took piano lessons when he was a small boy.

"But is it not until you grow up that you are thankful for the

Finds Tonic In Falstaff

Prescribing Shakespeare's Falstaff as a tonic and a rich symbol of a spirit essentially English, Ira Dilworth, regional director of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, addressed students at Victoria's Summer School on the subject, "Proud Procession."

He took his title from a line in George Russell's "Babylon," a line in which the poet allied himself with the tradition and richness of that biblical town in its heyday.

The speaker, reaching back not 3,000 years, drew his material from the Elizabethan Age, the spirit of which had lived through the intervening centuries in the gallant hearts of those in bombarded London and further afield to those beyond the Rockies.

That proud procession, he said, was the privilege enjoyed by Canadians through their tradition.

Mr. Dilworth drew a brief picture of Elizabethan England, a land of contradictions, "a world outwardly strange but so familiar in things of the spirit." He pictured the brilliant world of wealth and pageantry in the court and the squalor of the poor, an era of intellectual endeavor side by side with superstition and witchcraft, a time of exquisite refinements in literature and music and coarse brutality expressed in public executions.

JEST AT GRAVE'S EDGE

It was the day of the gambler with the gambler's fine sense of the significance of the moment and the gambler's willingness to jest at the edge of the grave.

Quoting the grave-digger's scene from "Hamlet," the Rabelaisian humor of Falstaff and other similar passages, Mr. Dilworth illustrated the spirit which has lived through the centuries to find expression in the jests of Britishers now under hours of practice—or you blame your parents for not insisting that you had practiced," he said. "Nothing in the world takes the place of music. Nothing else can arouse your enthusiasm or passions or cheer you when you are down."

He said he noted the other day that Hitler used plenty of music for a background when talking about the war. He likened this "to a dose of castor oil wrapped up in orange juice."

"Our fighting men would be lost without music," the mayor said. "Marching men, who are tired, forget their weary feet when the band strikes up."

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Miss May James of Vancouver presented her report to the annual meeting this afternoon. She particularly welcomed guests from the United States.

The federation, she said, at one time contemplated canceling the 1941 convention because of the war, but decided "it was our duty to go on steadily building on the foundation laid with such high hopes."

Music teachers were not indifferent to the war, she said, "rather are we determined to carry on with our work in such a way that we shall contribute a share to our country's endeavor."

"But is it not until you grow up that you are thankful for the fire, joking at the edge of the bomb crater, laughing as they moved time bombs."

It was a spirit to which Canadians, inclined to a more sober outlook under such circumstances, might well pay greater attention, he suggested.

He urged teachers and parents to teach their children to laugh with Shakespeare, to appreciate the courage of John of Gaunt, to know the speech to Westmorland, recently quoted by Churchill.

War Savings

Groups Accept Higher Quotas

All up-island communities are willing not only to accept increased war savings quotas but to strive to exceed them, Mrs. H. S. Hurn, honorary secretary of the Vancouver Island War Savings Committee, said today.

Mrs. Hurn recently toured the island with G. N. Stacey, provincial war savings administrator, and F. E. Winslow, Greater Victoria chairman, conferring with chairmen of war savings committees.

"Everyone was very optimistic and very ready to do anything asked," Mrs. Hurn said.

Chairmen in all island communities are now reorganizing and reactivating their committees in order to meet higher quotas.

At Port Alberni, Dr. C. T. Hilton, local chairman, is leading a group of women in the general campaign and is organizing a small group of men to carry on the payroll deduction drive.

At Courtenay, the resignation of W. R. Urquhart due to his leaving the town has been accepted and Mayor Simms has taken the chairmanship of the committee. Mayor Simms has just completed his task as chairman of the Victory Loan Committee in Courtenay.

Chairman J. R. Walker of the Cumberland committee has expressed confidence that war savings can be maintained at the present level in that area despite the closing of mines.

Ladysmith, under chairmanship of James King, has accepted a quota of $2 per capita per month, in comparison with the province-wide quota of $1.30 per capita.

F. C. Grant is resigning as chairman of the Nanaimo committee to come to Victoria, where he will take an active part in war savings activities. Members of the Nanaimo committee are now arranging a war savings rally for next Sunday.

The Parksville-Qualicum committee has been split into two groups, with Col. A. Playfair as chairman at Qualicum and Charles Wing as Parksville chairman. Col. Playfair will be assisted by H. J. Welsh, operator of the Olympic Logging Company, and George Walker, manager of the Qualicum Beach Hotel.

A group under chairmanship of Russell Richardson has been organized at Campbell River and has accepted a large quota. Gerald E. Wellburn is chairman of the Duncan committee, which has exceeded its quota each month. Duncan has 42 per cent of its population pledged to save regularly—the greatest proportion in Canada.

Well organized and active groups also are working in the Sooke and Saanich Peninsula areas.

Boy Airmen Proposed for B.C.

Air Cadet Training Planned in Schools

British Columbia is planning to train air cadets in the high schools as a groundwork for boys who may later want to join the air force.

Representatives of the education department, the Air Cadet League of Canada, and the Royal Canadian Air Force, are meeting here this afternoon to discuss the proposal, and announcement of the scheme is expected within a few days.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, said this morning that a final decision on the program has yet to be reached, but the committee will discuss various problems connected with it.

Attending the meeting with Dr. Weir are: Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education; George H. Deane, Victoria inspector of schools; H. N. MacCorkindale and W. G. Brandreth of Vancouver; Group Capt. C. R. Slemmon, O.C. Western Air Command, and Flying Officer D. Davis, air force liaison officer for the cadets, and Major R. H. B. Ker of Victoria, and Squadron Leader A. W. Carter of Vancouver, who represent the air cadet league.

CONSIDER PROGRAM

Dr. Weir said problems of working the air cadets in with the military cadet training program, adjustment of educational facilities, and financing of the scheme were to be considered. Senior air cadets may get special technical training in the schools.

Major Ker, who attended a meeting of the air cadet league in Ottawa, said it was hoped to eventually have between 3,000 and 4,000 boys in B.C. training. It is proposed to start with senior cadets in the Victoria and Vancouver high schools.

The air cadet regulations, recently approved in Ottawa, are based on those of a similar organization in England which has 200,000 boys training.

They provide for two groups, junior cadets from 12 to 15 and senior cadets from 15 to 18. They are not liable, as cadets, to compulsory service in the air force.

OBJECTS OF TRAINING

The object is to give the boys training and instruction similar to the elementary training of the Royal Canadian Air Force, thus forming a disciplined group of

SUBVERSIVE DOROTHY

From Financial Post

The Financial Post never joined the hue and cry to have the Saturday Evening Post banned from Canada, feeling that restrictions on the free circulation of the printed word would always be imposed with greatest caution. If we were to bar literature that is critical of the British cause or British policy we should have to ban Dorothy Thompson's column from Canadian newspapers. Her attack on Eden's "war aims" speech was not calculated to promote unity in the Commonwealth. Indeed, it could only serve to invite Jewish distrust of British policy, and confuse those who feel Germany's military might should finally be crushed.

New Ship Sails

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The Cape Fairweather, third freighter to be launched from the yards of the Seattle-Tacoma Shipbuilding Corporation, was turned over to officials of the American Mail Line today, according to Walter Green, plant manager.

Captain J. F. MacDougall took the ship over and is expected to warp his ship into the local Shaffer terminals, where 25 tons of flour and general cargo for the Orient will be loaded.

A native of Los Angeles has written to complain about a Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau folder stating that Victoria has 27 inches of rainfall a year. Los Angeles, he says, has 32 inches of low fog a year, and he doesn't like the inference that it might be rain.
